OUR CHEFS

BRUNO BARBIERI

His cuisine is the result of his origins and of his travelling: sensitive and simple at the same time, but also engaging, creative, experimental and provocative at the right point. He wins the first 2 stars at the Locanda Solarola in Castel Guelfo di Bologna. 2 stars in 1995 for Il Trigabolo di Argenta with Iglés Corelli and Mauro Gualandi and then 1 at the Grotta di Brisighella. When he opened the Arquade restaurant in 2007 he reached the milestone of 7 Michelin stars.

HÉLÈNE DARROZE

Born in France and coming from a family of chefs, she began her career at Alain Ducasse's Le Louis XV. She has 6 Michelin stars and three restaurants: "Hélène Darroze at The Connaught" in London with 3 stars, "Marsan Hélène Darroze" in Paris with 2 stars and "Hélène Darroze à Villa La Coste" in Provence with 1 star. She judges Top Chef on television, and in 2015 she became the best female cook within the top 50 Best Restaurants.

ÁNGEL LEÓN

Born in 1977 in southern Spain, he trained in Seville, Bordeaux and Toledo. In 2007 he opened the Puerto de Santamaría, where he was awarded 2 Michelin stars (2010/2015). Now he directs Aponiente in the splendid Molino de Mareas in front of the sea where he earned his third star and the exclusive recognition of "Chef of the Sea".

NORTH SEA MENU

My relationship with Northern European cuisine is relatively recent. It arose from my curiosity in a new style of refined, creative gastronomy, which is capable of reinventing the history of those lands, with brave combinations and innovative techniques. As such, this menu expresses my admiration for Scandinavian culinary artistry, and is suspended between tradition and modernity.

THE INGREDIENT TO DISCOVER

GEITOST

The villages scattered along Sognefjord, Norway's longest and deepest fjord, have a long tradition of making cheeses from raw goat's milk. Artisan geitost has been produced here for more than five hundred years: although the tradition was once widespread throughout this area, today, this cheese is primarily produced in Undredal, a tiny village overlooking the fjord. The production of artisan geitost embodies the sheer determination of Norwegian cheese-makers and farmers, who battle to promote artisan cheeses and to protect the ecosystem of the Sogginess Fjord.

HÉLÈNE DARROZE

NORTH SEA MENU

I remember a holiday in Norway: I was 20 years old, with a pocket full of dreams. These happy memories are at the heart of my inspiration for this menu, which features many traditional Nordic ingredients. I wanted to paint landscapes, with strong typical flavors such as herring and dill, and bright colors - like a visit to a centuries-old forest: the bright green of cabbage, the brown of consommé, the delicate white of Jerusalem artichokes. And a chocolate cream to warm the heart.

THE INGREDIENT TO DISCOVER

JERUSALEM ARTICHOKE

Also known as sunroot, sunchoke or earth apple, the Jerusalem artichoke is a tuber that is native to North America. For a long time, it was used as a substitute for potatoes, before being almost forgotten for years. Now, it is a precious ingredient once more, in part due to its high vitamin B content. And its yellow, daisy-like flowers are unmistakable in autumn!

SMOKED HERRING PANNA COTTA

trout roe, wild fennel, vodka and lemon granita

Sancerre Blanc Les Caillottes AOC

"Pascal Jolivet"

FRESH FILLED RAVIOLI PASTA

with veal sweetbreads,
reduced porcini mushroom broth

Friuli Colli Orientali Friulano DOC

"Livio Felluga"

SEARED SALMON WITH POPPY SEEDS

Savoy cabbage fondue, cured pork jowl, smoked haddock foam

Greco di Tufo DOCG

"Feudi di San Gregorio"

EINKORN WHEAT RISOTTO IN JERUSALEM ARTICHOKE CREAM

with crispy chicken wings and citrus

Contessa Entellina La Fuga DOC

"Donnafugata"

CHOCOLATE CREAM

cinnamon ice cream quenelle, crispy wafer

Porto Rosès Vintage "Pommery"

ÁNGEL LEÓN

NORTH SEA MENU

The North Sea is wind and waves. It's the "deep blue"! The products I find here allow me to create recipes that are very simple, but at the same time full of flavor. Here, I can use unusual herbs such as cardoon, which is a type of thistle, along with sprouts, plankton and other pure ingredients for a menu that is both simple and sophisticated, in perfect harmony with the environment we are exploring.

PLANKTON

The basis of life is the true taste of the sea. Tetraselmis chuii is a unicellular seaweed, the vegetable component of Plankton, which gives dishes an intense and ancient flavor of the sea. A revolutionary product for the future of food and nutrition.

PLANKTON ROLL & SEA SOPPRESSATA

Plankton puffed bread and our marine Soppresata

Passerina Marta DOCG

COSTA CROCIERE FOUNDATION

ROOTS AND ROUTES
SUSTAINABILITY, DESIGN AND COMMITMENT.

The sea is a resource, for us it is everything. What guided the creation of Archipelago was the bond and respect for this element, in every action, in every choice, from the menus to the design of our restaurant.

The refined atmosphere of Archipelago is a gift created by the sea. Driftwoods are natural sculptures, unique and unrepeatably recovered during the operations to protect the marine environment made possible thanks to the Costa Cruises Foundation. A concrete action that integrates with the Guardians of the Coast project, in collaboration with local communities, such as the municipality of Framura (La Spezia), from which most of the works exhibited today come from.

An Archipelago to explore among driftwood, sustainable materials and ingredients to discover. A commitment for future generations, which focuses on respect for our planet. A mission, that of the Costa Crociere Foundation which is the true treasure of Archipelago.
